MOFA

1. Mission & Structure: MOFA was founded in October 2008 to support indie filmmakers in central Ohio through networking, resource-sharing, and professional development. It operates as a grassroots collective but does not state nonprofit status on its website 15.

2. Financial/Legal Status:

- No EIN or IRS tax-exempt records appear in the search results.
 - Unlike groups like Gateway Film Foundation or Fevered Dreams Productions (which are confirmed nonprofits with revenue data), MOFA's financial structure isn't documented 28.
3. Activities: Hosts monthly meetings at Studio 35 in Columbus and lists a P.O. Box address, typical of small volunteer-run orgs. One board member (Lewis Gordon) is affiliated with MOFA and also works with PRAUSmedia, a nonprofit—but this doesn't confirm MOFA's status 9.
4. Comparison: Similar groups like Hispanic Filmmakers of Cleveland (EIN: 84-3321276) are registered nonprofits, while MOFA lacks such transparency 6.
- MOFA functions as a community collective but may not be a formal 501(c)(3).
 - For verification, you could:
 - Request MOFA's EIN or determination letter directly.
 - Search the IRS Tax Exempt Organization Database using its name/P.O. Box 2.
